RICHMOND, VA., Special.—"I put this House on notice here and now that the bill providing for the 'enabling' act will be called up every day until the House consents to consider it."

Such was the defiance hurled in the very teeth of the House today by J. R. Jordan, of Isle of Wight, when thirty-seven out of minety-three voting members refused to take up the bill out of its order.

If only a majority had been required the bill would certainly have been taken up and probably passed, but a two-thirds major-passed, but a two-thirds majority was necessary and the motion failed by six votes.

Speaker Byrd, Jordan and C. J. Meetze, of Prince William, were among those who wanted the bill taken up.

They did not ask for a vote upon the measure. They only wanted it taken up so that a day could be set for argument.

Judge Martin Williams and Walter Oliver opposed the motion, declaring that it should take its place and its chances with the its place and its chances with the other bills.

On motion of Delegate Love, of Lunenburg, the question was

A count of hands was first taken, the result showing fifty-five votes for the bill and thirty-four against it.

A division was then called for, the roll being called. The result was fifty-six against thirty-se en.

BELFAST, Special. Friends of home rule were jubliant today over the specch of Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty here yesterday, in which he outlined features of the bill which will grant political and economic freedom to Ireland.

Encouraged by the failure of the Orangemen's attack, leaders among the Irish Nationalists and Liberals predicted that the bill would pass Parliament without serious opposition. Ulsier breathed a sigh of relief today because the storm had been weathered without bloodshed.

the storm had been weathered without bloodshed.

Shortly after daybreak the movement of soldiers, who had been brought here to prevent ricting and to protect the speakers at the home rule demonstration, from the city began. The reserve forces of the local constabilary were also sent to their respective barracks and the deputy police were cancelled. Ford Mayor Robert J. McManus expressed gratification that there had been no uprising.

"I think that there is nothing more to be feared. The temper of the people has been shown, and while hostile demonstrations were made toward Mr. Churchill and John Redmond, they were of a nature so mild that those who had looked for violence were really surprised. I am heartly glad that the good name of the city is unsulled and that no bloodshed followed yesterday's meeting."

The resolution, though an effort was made by Delegate W. A. Land, of Nottoway, to send it to the Finance Committee.

MORSE PREPARES FOR REVENGE

Will Seek to Recover Funds Alleged to Have Been Taken.

NEW YORK, Special.—While gathering strength for his proposed health-seeking trip abroad, Charles W. Morse, the former "Ice King," recently released from the Federal prison in Atlanta, Ga., is today reported to be planning a campaign of vengeance against men he trusted and who, he declares, turned against him in his hour of trouble and by legal ous items were set forth, all of which, in the judgment of the Chesterfield citizens, required explanation.

A recent investigation of school conditions in Chesterfield placed a number of unexplained matters, the petition set forth, at the doors of the Department of Public Instruction.

It being intimated that violations of the school laws are countenanced in various parts of Virginia and upon a request for an investigation made by Superintendent J. D. Eggleston, of the Department of Public Instruction, the House today unanimously passed the resolution, though an effort was made by Delegate W. A.
